Baj lives in the future on a planet called Aular and in many ways is like any other kid, but he has trouble reading body language, making eye contact, and taking turns in conversation.

When Baj is given a special present—a magical communication kit—he begins to understand the complex rules of the social world. An invisible Calming Cape comforts his body, making it easier to keep his cool in difficult situations; a Word Launcher helps him decide the best words for the moment; and Listening Aids help him focus on the important words when people talk. But will Baj ever be able to do all these things without the help of his enchanted gadgets?

To find out, join Baj on his flying bicycle as he embarks upon space age adventures in communication!
